BANK ROBBER ESCAPES

Climbs Through Window Scarcely Six Inches High.

Frank G. Hohl, the Altoona bank robber who had been confined in the Blair County jail at Hollidaysburg, escaped on Saturday night and is at large.

He was seen in a state of deep reflection on Saturday in his cell and his escape in the midnight hours of Saturday night is now thought to be the outcome of his undoubted powers of mental concentration. There was a ventilating window in his cell, well up and facing the court yard near the eaves of the jail. Through this window, three and one-half feet long by five and one-half or less than six inches wide, the prisoner forced his body, soaped or greased with butter which is known he purchased, probably suffering intense torture, as the Bertillon measurement of his head is greater than the window through which he passed. He pulled himself up onto the roof by grasping the spouting, and crossing the roof, he tied knotted strips of mattress around a chimney and let himself down over the jail wall as far as it reached and dropped the remainder of the space. He was scantily clad, and probably fled into the mountains, although there is a report that a powerful automobile drove up to the jail about the time Hohl is thought to have been working to make his escape.

Hohl is a former inmate of the Industrial Reformatory at Huntingdon. He afterward served a term in the penitentiary.

DEFENDS WILSON POLICY
Senator Lodge, Republican, Advocates Toll Exemption Repeal.
Washington, April 13.—Senator Lodge, ranking Republican member of the Foreign Relations Committee, addressed the Senate Thursday in support of President Wilson's Panama Canal tolls policy.
He maintained vigorously the legal right of the United States to exempt its shipping, foreign as well as coastwise, from tolls, but declared that "a decent respect to the opinions of mankind" and the "distrust and in some cases dislike" which the United States is regarded abroad, demanded prompt repeal of the exemption clause of the canal act.
"Whether we shall insist upon giving to our ships two or three millions of dollars in a disputed way is, in my conception, a very small question compared to the larger issues which are here involved," said the Senator. "When the year 1909 opened, the United States occupied a higher and stronger position among the nations of the earth than at any period in our history."

In Exalted Position
Never before had we possessed such an influence in international affairs, and that influence had been used beneficently and for the world's peace in two conspicuous instances—at Portsmouth and at Algeiras. Never before had our relations with the various States of Central and South America been so good. It seemed as if the shadow of suspicion which, owing to our dominant and at times, dominating power, had darkened and chilled our relations with the people of Latin America had at last been lifted. This great position and this commanding influence have been largely lost.

To Regain High Plane
"I am not in the councils of the President of the United States, but I believe that during the past year the present position of the United States in its foreign relations has become very apparent to him, and it has to other responsible and reflecting men, and with this appreciation of our present position has come the earnest wish to retract some of our steps, at least, and to regain, so far as possible, the high plane which we formerly occupied."
"It would be an obvious impropriety to point out the specific conditions of our present relations, with the various nations, both in the Old World and in the New; it is enough to note the fact that we are regarded by other nations with distrust and in some cases with dislike. Rightly or wrongly, they have come to believe that we are not to be trusted; that we make our international relations the sport of politics and treat them as if they were in no wise different from questions of domestic legislation."

Not in Accord With Record
"This has not been in accord with our history or our position. Only once have we abrogated a treaty, and then actual if not declared war existed. We have scrupulously observed our international agreements, and where differences have arisen we have settled them not with the high hand of power, but by negotiation and arbitration."

Respect Opinions of Mankind
"I suppose at this moment in the midst of the adroitly stimulated passions raised against the President's recommendation that we should repeal the toll exemption it will be thought very poor spirited and even truckling—I believe that is the accepted word—to suggest that in deciding this question we should take into consideration the opinions of other nations. Nevertheless, I consider this a very important element in any decision which I may reach, and I am encouraged to believe that I am right in so thinking, because I have the warrant and authority of the author of the Declaration of Independence. When Jefferson framed that great instrument he declared that the impelling reason for making the Declaration was a decent respect to the opinions of mankind."

Other Nations Distrustful
"The long delay in the ratification by the Senate of the treaties renewing the arbitration treaties of 1908 produced a widespread feeling among other nations that our championship of the principle of arbitration and our loud boasts of our devotion to the cause of peace were the merest hypocrisy, because we seemed ready to abandon the cause of arbitration when it looked as if our treaties might bring us to the arbitration of questions which we did not desire to have decided by an impartial tribunal."
"The President renewed the arbitration treaties, and finally, after a delay, which, as I have said, aroused unpleasant suspicions, those which have been sent to the Senate have been ratified. This was the President's first step as I looked at it. His effort to restore the influence and reputation of the United States had found to be impaired. The second step is in recommending

STOP CATARRH
Use Hyomei—You Breathe It
Unless properly treated this disease often leads to a serious if not fatal ailment. It is needless to allow catarrh to ruin your health—use Hyomei—it is certainly effective relief for catarrh of the nose, throat, and sinuses. It is the direct-to-the-spot treatment. You breathe it—no stomach dosing. No household should be without Hyomei. It not only gives quick and lasting benefit in cases of catarrh but is one of the surest and most pleasant treatments for head colds, sniffles, or croup of children.
Hyomei is a combination of antiseptic oils—you breathe it—using a small inhaler. The air laden with health-restoring Hyomei soothes, heals and vitalizes the sore, raw and inflamed membrane of the breathing organs almost immediately. There is no other remedy that benefits so surely or so quickly. Money refunded by F. W. Jordan, Jr., if you are not satisfied.
Do not be without Hyomei another day. Druggists everywhere sell it. Get the complete outfit—$1.00 size—this contains the inhaler and bottle of Liquid.—Adv. Apr. 10-2t.

the repeal of the toll exemption clause of the Canal Act.
Too Great to be Subservient
"The outcry about exhibiting subservience to Great Britain or any other country because we see fit to repeal the tolls seems to me hardly worthy of serious consideration. The United States is altogether too great and too powerful to be subservient to any one, and the mere fact of suggesting it seems to me to indicate an uneasy suspicion on the part of those from whom it emanates, not only of the validity of their position, but of the power and guarantee of their own country, as to which I, for one, am troubled by no doubts."

REORGANIZATION
Represents a New Era in the Pennsylvania Democracy.
The Democracy of Pennsylvania has been rescued from discreditable and shifting leadership. The personnel of its direction is now at least a guarantee of good faith, of honorable purpose, of an open and above-board policy. No citizen imagines that the reorganizers would sell out, either before or after election. They have accomplished in their own party what sincere patriots are endeavoring to accomplish in the Republican party. They have substituted honesty for trickery, principles for opportunism, high purposes for low purposes. Their political economy may be all wrong—and we believe that it is—but in character and ability they represent a new era in the Pennsylvania Democracy. They have rehabilitated it, they have constructed a real fighting force to act as a stopcock to the utter effrontery and boldness of a majority which so often heretofore remained a majority through the debauchery of the now discredited Democratic leaders.

The under cog in the old bi-partisan machine is active, watchful and belligerent. The Republican machine is relying to some extent on it. There is a conspiracy on foot to drive reorganizers out and turn the Democratic party over once more, bound and shackled, to the barterers and traders. The issue thus becomes more than a partisan one. It is a question of morality. The State expects the party to vindicate the integrity of its intentions by its endorsement of the leadership which has injected into it new life and vigor. The commonwealth anticipates that while one great body of citizens is engaged in clearing up the greater of the two parties, another great body of citizens will not permit any backsliding or retrogression from the progress made in the other of the two parties. Simple honesty, high purpose and expediency go together. The Democracy cannot afford to drift back to bi-partisan intrigue and the State cannot afford to let it do so.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Not Reformers, Merely Dissenters.
Some place in that old organ of "reliability," namely, the Philadelphia Inquirer, we see where the most righteous and high-minded gentleman, Boies Penrose, is going to ask for an investigation of the Post Office Department. We presume from the $25,000 Standard Oil Senator's conduct that he wants to see how honest people can really stay honest when they have an opportunity to do a little grafting. The Penrose stripe don't pretend to be reformed, merely dissenters, and happily their kind will be a thing of the past very shortly and the country will be happier and more prosperous without them.—Huntingdon Monitor.

CRISIS IN RAILROAD CONDITIONS
In testifying before the Interstate Commerce Commission in the application for an advance of 5 per cent. in freight rates, Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, when asked as to whether or not there was a crisis in the business situation demanding immediate relief, replied:
"I suppose I had better define first what is meant by a crisis, and what I have in mind when I speak of a crisis. When I speak of a crisis, what I have in mind is a condition like this:
"If it has come about, as it seems to have come about, that new money to provide railroad facilities does not now, under existing conditions, earn any return, then it would seem that the carriers could not be expected to put the amount of new money constantly into the property that is necessary in order to take care of the growing commerce which they are called upon to move."

"The history of the Baltimore and Ohio, for instance, shows that for a long period of years it has been necessary to expend from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 of new capital upon the property each year for new equipment, new facilities, new tracks, and things that are necessary to take care of the developing country which it serves.
"If a condition should come about which would make it seem unattractive or unwise to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company to continue to put that new capital into the property to provide new facilities and take proper care of the commerce that is growing all the time, then I should say there had come about a condition of crisis to these people who looked to the Baltimore and Ohio Company for transportation—just such a condition, for instance, as existed in 1910."

"I have already referred to the fact that when I came to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, the shippers complained that they were then confronted with a very serious situation, and that development in part of West Virginia particularly had stopped. To my mind that would be one indication of a crisis as affects the general public.
"There might be another phase of a crisis. I should say that we would be approaching a crisis whenever net earnings as a result of our operation were so small that our ability to maintain fair returns upon our existing capitalization was seriously in question. Those who hold our securities would certainly look upon that as a crisis approaching, for it would certainly have reference to their investment."

"I should also think that it might be considered there was a crisis at hand from the point of view of the workman, when a man who had been employed by a company for some time was deprived of employment, not because his services were not needed, but because of the inability of the employer to pay him. I should think that that would be a crisis from the employees' point of view."

"As I view the situation, all of these phases are at hand today, in a state of greater or less development, and I have referred to the reasons that have brought it about. I would like to say this in that connection also:
Not Tendencies, but Facts—Now
"Three or four years ago, when this matter was before the commission, the carriers at that time, as I recall, based their request for increased rates very largely upon what they considered to be the tendencies of that time, and they pointed out that while at that particular time they were able to meet their engagements, as they viewed it, the tendencies of a constant increase in wages, increases in taxes, and increases in other directions, brought about by various other forces, the tendencies of all of that would be in the near future to bring about a condition where they would not be able to maintain their fair and reasonable payments and to continue to provide additional facilities."

"Today we have not rested our case upon the matter of tendencies. We have stated—I have stated—and I earnestly believe, it is not a question of tendencies that confronts the

HEALTHY HAIR—NO MORE DANDRUFF
Use Parisian Sage
It's entirely needless to have unsightly, matted, thin or faded hair. A little care is all that is needed to make it thick, soft, pretty, perfectly healthy and free from dandruff.
Use Parisian Sage—it supplies hair needs and is absolutely harmless. It quickly stops itching head and falling hair, and is one of the best tonics to invigorate the scalp and make the hair grow long and beautiful.
Get a bottle of Parisian Sage today from F. W. Jordan, Jr., or at any drug counter. It costs but 50 cents. Rub it into the scalp—all dandruff disappears—your head feels fine—the hair is pretty and perfectly healthy.—Adv. Apr. 10-2t.

railroads in the eastern territory now. It is a question of fact, and the facts either are or are not as we have endeavored to point out, and in the case of the Baltimore and Ohio, I honestly believe them to be as I have endeavored to show. It is not a question of tendency with the Baltimore and Ohio. It is a question of an exact state of fact at the present time."
Mr. Willard stated that since June 30, 1910, his company has spent about $56,000,000 in improving its property. The results of these improvements were largely available for the traffic of 1913. In 1910 the company earned about $90,000,000 gross, and in 1913, $103,000,000, the largest earnings in the history of the company. But by reason of the increased expenses which had occurred in the meantime, their net earnings in 1913 were $751,000 less than they had been in 1910, before the additional capital had been spent for the additional facilities provided.

PILES RELIEVED
Also Eczema, Salt Rheum, Ulcers, Old Sores and Carbuncles.

Under the influence of San Cura Ointment surprising improvement is made so quickly that it seems almost miraculous.
Stubborn cases of piles like those of Rev. W. F. Gilbert of Titusville, Pa., vanish before the marvelous antiseptic Ointment. Mr. Gilbert writes: "For twenty years I suffered with bleeding and itching piles; at times I was confined to the house for more than a month. Two years ago I began using San Cura Ointment and one 50c jar made a firm and permanent cure. I have not been troubled since."
San Cura Ointment is guaranteed by Ed. D. Heckerman, who is the agent in Bedford, to help any of the above named diseases or money back. It relieves pain from burns, cuts and bruises, draws out the poison and often heals in a short time. 25c and 50c a jar at Ed. D. Heckerman's.

Good Baby Soap
San Cura Soap is a healing and antiseptic soap; just the soothing kind that baby needs. It frees the pores from impurities and prevents rashes and other skin diseases. Fine for any one's skin; banishes blackheads and pimples, clears the complexion. 25c a cake at Ed. D. Heckerman's.

Lincoln Highway Notes
A bill authorizing the renaming of the New Jersey section of the Lincoln Highway, has been passed by the Senate of that State. The entire length of the Way across New Jersey is now officially designated, "Lincoln Way." Action of this nature is giving the great memorial project an added impetus through the East.

Mansfield, O., is marking the entire length of the Lincoln Way through Richland County, with the red, white and blue markers which point out to the tourist the route across the continent. Local hardware dealers and jobbers have contributed the paint and brushes necessary in doing the work, the lumber men have agreed to furnish large permanent wooden signs to mark the two entrances of the Way into the city, and the garage and auto supply men of the enterprising town are gladly doing the work and providing the means of transportation. T. R. Barnes, the local consul, and a live wire good roads man, is largely responsible for the working out of this practical plan.

Greene County, Ia., supervisors have voted $20,000 for work on the Lincoln Highway. The route of the Way across Iowa and Nebraska is along fairly level ground, and construction work is expected to proceed rapidly in both of these States, where much Lincoln Way enthusiasm is being shown. Nebraska counties are already proceeding with preliminary work.

Transcontinental tourists, who follow the route of the Lincoln Highway, will be greeted from afar, from a welcome oasis on the edge of the great American desert, by a pennant waving from the tip of one of the tallest trees. When twilight falls, a flaring beacon of Prest-O-Lite, will prove a welcome and a positive guide to night travelers.

The signals are at Kearney's Ranch, Nevada, between Salt Lake City and Ely, where they were erected by patriotic Lincoln Highway enthusiasts.

Merely a Bluff
Washington, D. C., April 10.—Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer has compelled Senator Boies Penrose to admit that his loud talk of a scandal over Pennsylvania patronage was largely bluff and unbecome. The Senator had opposed Palmer's appointment as postmaster at Bangor, Pa., when ordered by the Senate Postoffice Committee to produce evidence against the man or to withdraw his objection Penrose hastily retreated and the appointment was confirmed.

PLATFORM OF GIFFORD PINCHOT
Washington Party Candidate for United States Senator.

The time has come to clean house. The greedy by-partisan political machine must be swept out, and the common welfare must be set in the place where it belongs. The mag-nate system of private monopoly has dominated the politics of State and Nation, stifled equal opportunity, raised the cost of living, and skimmed the cream of industry for the over-rich. It must be destroyed. This country belongs of right to its inhabitants. Extortion for private profit must stand aside for the public good. The Government must be made to serve the people.

I believe in the Conservation of Human Rights. If nominated and elected, I will work for:

The destruction of private monopoly in natural resources or the products of industry. The power of the monopolists lies in exclusive privileges. To end their power to raise the cost of living, their exclusive privileges must be destroyed. That is our greatest task.
The regulation of all large corporations not monopolies. Honest competition and fair dealing with the public must be assured.
The right of workmen to organize in unions, and by every fair means to compel recognition of such unions by employers. Only through their unions can the workmen meet the employers on equal terms.

A constitutional convention in Pennsylvania, so that our constitution may be adjusted to the needs of our time, and our system of taxation may be thoroughly revised.

A protective tariff which shall equalize the conditions of competition between the United States and foreign countries, and which shall be based upon the findings of a non-partisan scientific commission. The tariff must be taken out of politics.

A sharply graduated inheritance tax. Swollen fortunes drain the public.

A law to prevent fraud in clothing. Honest clothes are more necessary than undoctored whiskey.

I believe in the Conservation of Natural Resources. If nominated and elected, I will work for:

The Conservation policy in State and Nation.

The protection of our forests in Pennsylvania. They can be made to yield four times the lumber they do now.

A law to limit franchises and require compensation from waterpower companies. We have no right to facilitate the robbery of our descendants.

State and National laws to promote co-operation among farmers. The prosperous farmer helps us all.
A better law for the safety of miners. Over two hundred more miners were killed in Pennsylvania last year than the year before.

A law giving to a national commission the power to limit the wholesale price charged by the anthracite monopoly or its agents in interstate commerce. The price fixed should consist of a reasonable price for coal at the mine, sufficient to provide good wages for the miners, and a reasonable charge for transportation and handling. A reasonable profit should be included. The saving to the public should be applied in part to greater safety for miners, and in part to lowering the cost of living by reducing the price of coal. The monopoly in anthracite coal, which is a necessity of modern life, should be subject to the obligations of public service. This monopoly charges high prices because it has the power. That power must be destroyed.

I believe in the Conservation of Human Welfare. If nominated and elected, I will work for:

The whole social and industrial justice program of the National Progressive platform, and in particular:

A workmen's compensation law. The great manufacturing and building industries, and not the wage-earners and their families, should bear the burden of industrial accidents. Farmers and domestic employers should be excluded.

A workmen's insurance law. The dread of accidental poverty should be removed.

Standards of safety, health and employment in mines, railroads, mills and factories. The welfare of the workers comes first.

A minimum wage law for women, and a law regulating the terms of their employment. The comforts and decencies of life should not be denied to the mothers.

A Federal child-labor law. The exploitation of childhood for profit must cease.

An effective nine-hour law effectively enforced. It is outrageous that men and property should be endangered without notice and without redress.

I believe in the Conservation of Citizenship. If nominated and elected, I will work for:

The initiative, referendum, and recall, and direct primaries and direct voting in all elections. The people must control their Government. Equal suffrage for men and women. The women are needed in public affairs.

Local option as to the liquor traffic. Each county and large city should decide for itself.

National option as to the liquor traffic through a constitutional amendment giving the people of the Nation the right to decide for themselves.

The spread of knowledge by the State to all our citizens, old and young, to help them in solving their private and their public problems, and opening the school buildings to the people.

I believe in our right to exercise sovereignty over the Panama Canal, and in free tolls for the coast-wise trade. Cheap transportation in American coast-wise ships will break down the present monopoly of the transcontinental railroads. That monopoly must be destroyed.

DON'T BE MISLED

Bedford Citizens Should Read and Heed This Advice.

Kidney trouble is dangerous and often fatal. Don't experiment with something new and untried.

Use a tested kidney remedy. Begin with Doan's Kidney Pills. Used in kidney troubles 50 years. Recommended here and everywhere.

A Bedford citizen's statement. forms convincing proof.

It's local testimony—it can be investigated.
Miss Mary F. Wise, 147 Spring St., Bedford, Pa., says: "I suffered greatly from backaches and distressing pains through my kidneys. I couldn't stoop or lift anything without great pain and I also had severe headaches and dizzy spells. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and got the best of relief. They removed the backaches and pains in my kidneys and headaches and dizzy spells left. The action of my kidneys also became regulated. I would be pleased to have you use my recommendation for Doan's Kidney Pills at any time you wish and don't hesitate to say a good word for them to my friends."

GARDENS

Little Talks on Health and Hygiene
by Samuel G. Dixon, M. D.

Plant a garden. Some of the world's greatest thinkers have found diversion and inspiration in their gardens. If your control of agricultural space is limited to a twenty-foot back yard do not be discouraged. It is even possible to transform an unattractive flat roof into a garden. The possibilities of exercise and profit to be derived from the cultivation of even a small plot, are greater than one might think.

The use of the spade, the hoe and the rake prove the equivalent of many of the gymnastic exercises which everybody concedes to be beneficial and few people take. In addition to the advantage of exercise in open air it is a keen satisfaction to the vast majority of men and women to see things that they have cultivated grow and mature.

The practical benefits derived from the tillage of a little garden are usually exceeded by the aesthetic but in the hurly-burly of every day life perhaps we weigh as of too little importance our opportunities for the cultivation and appreciation of the beautiful. It is difficult to tell how far reaching may be the effect of some slight effort at beautification.

Years ago a boy station agent of a railroad traversing the plains of the Canadian Northwest sent back home for a few packages of flower seed and with such time as he could spare transformed the surroundings of his mean little one-room station.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the road, was making a tour of inspection and when he reached this little garden spot in the then uncultivated wastes, he asked to see the boy and learned from him the story of his garden. As a result the next year all agents of this road which stretches from the Atlantic to the Pacific received packages of seeds and instructions to plant flowers around every station and the custom then begun has ever since continued.

The cultivation of twenty feet or more back yard may not result in anything of this sort but should prove a healthful, restful and profitable diversion after the labors of the day for the busy man or woman.

April 14—Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Kagarise and son Warren spent Easter at the home of G. S. Kagarise.

The barn of Mrs. Elizabeth Murray was destroyed by fire, caused by a lantern exploding. All the farming implements and one horse were burned. The loss was covered by insurance.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Noted Society Belles at the National Capital to Wed This Spring.

Washington, D. C., April 13.—The river and harbor appropriation bill, now pending before the Committee of Commerce of the Senate, and which, in all probability, will be increased three or four millions by the upper branch of Congress when it comes before that body, provides for 119 surveys, a somewhat smaller number than either of the last two acts carried. Chairman Sparkman of the House Committee on Rivers and Harbors said, apropos of these surveys, "It is believed that we have now reached a point in river and harbor development when the demand for new work will be less, with a resultant reduction in the number of surveys in future annual bills and in the number and magnitude of the projects recommended by the engineers."

The recent seizure by the New York Customs authorities of the village of meadow ants which Mrs. C. W. Morse wished to bring with her from Europe is only an episode in the perpetual war waged against undesirable immigrants, human, animal and vegetable. Mrs. Morse's village, like the one which reached Philadelphia about a fortnight before, was probably a by-product of the increased interest in nature study, but the United States Government not only discourages such aids to amateur research but absolutely prohibits them. By a law passed in 1905 the importation of living insects into this country is forbidden and there are other laws which regulate so strictly the importation of larger animals that in many cases no discretion is left to the authorities.

Nevertheless tourists and amateur scientists persist in their efforts to introduce additions to the flora and fauna of the United States which the country would be happy to be without. It is estimated that one-half the pests that afflict farmers and stock have been imported from abroad, such as the gipsy moth, the mongoose, the Australian flying fox, which in reality is an overgrown bat, and the San Jose scale.

Brides are occupying the center of the social stage in Washington just now and will continue to do so for some weeks to come, for an unusually large number of noted society belles in the National Capital are to be wedded this spring. A bridal season with a White House wedding in it is regarded as one that is indeed worth while. The preparation for the marriage of the President's daughter, Miss Eleanor Wilson, are taking definite form, and there is now an air of briskness about the living rooms of the White House that has not been known in the historic mansion since the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Sayre last November. It is understood that the bride-elect of the Secretary of the Treasury will make another trip to New York some time before the wedding, which the wise ones say will be in early June, to complete her trousseau, but when that trip will be made is as much a secret as the actual date of the wedding. It is expected there will be more display at this second White House wedding of the Wilson administration than there was at the marriage of Miss Jessie Wilson, for Eleanor Wilson has not hesitated to say in her girlish way that she is for more fuss and feathers and furbelows than either of her sisters on joyous occasions such as the approaching wedding, and Washington society, also loving fuss and feathers, is also correspondingly elated.

Some wag of a newspaper correspondent a few weeks ago published in a number of newspapers throughout the country a paragraph that has brought thousands of letters to the Director of the Mint from every section.

IMPORTANT TO ALL WOMEN READERS OF THIS PAPER

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer a great deal with pain in the back, bearing-down feelings, headache and loss of ambition. Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dependent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

A good kidney medicine, possessing real healing and curative value, should be a blessing to thousands of nervous, over-worked women.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy will do for them. Every reader of this paper, who has not already tried it, by enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at all drug stores. Adv. Apr. 3-4

HAVE YOU CATARRH? Is nasal breathing impaired? Does your throat get husky or clogged?

Modern science proves that these symptoms result from run-down health. Snuffs and vapors are irritating and useless. You should build your general health with the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion—its nourishing powers will enrich and enliven the blood, aid nutrition and assimilation and assist nature to check the inflammation and heal the sensitive membranes which are affected. Scott's Emulsion will raise your standard of health to correct catarrh. Pure alcoholic mixtures and throat lozenges.

The correspondent stated in his dispatch that that amount would be due every man, woman and child in the United States if Uncle Sam's money were divided up, and thousands have actually believed that by writing to the Treasury Department they would receive the money. A form letter in reply to the vast number of these letters has been gotten up in the Bureau of the Mint to disabuse the minds of those who were misled, but it has kept several clerks busy for many days simply addressing the envelopes to the misguided applicants, many of whose letters begging that the money be sent at once are pathetic.

Labor throughout the land has become intensely interested in the proposed new government bureau to be known, when it is established, as the Bureau of Labor Safety of the Department of Labor, and incidentally the nation's vast army of industrial workers numbering about 34,000,000 men, women and children are equally interested in the recent announcement by Victor J. Evans, a well known patent attorney of Washington, that he will give the sum of $1,500 to the three persons inventing the most practical and effective life and limb protecting device to be applied to machinery in industrial establishments, the first prize to be $1,000, the second $300 and the third $200. A number of distinguished men, headed by Vice President Marshall and Speaker Champ Clark, have agreed to act as a commission to select the seven expert judges to pass upon the merits of the inventions, the other members being Secretaries Houston and Wilson, of the Agricultural and Labor departments, respectively, President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, and Robert Mackay and H. C. Young, editors respectively of the Railroad Man's Magazine and Popular Electricity. The Evans contest for the best inventions will not close until June of next year. The rules issued governing the contest are not onerous, and the contest is open to every man, woman and child in the land.

AGRICULTURE IN THE RURAL SCHOOL, AGAIN

Editor Gazette:—I had hoped the importance of the above subject would arouse more discussion through the press, as it is possibly second to none, when we consider the true educational needs of our farm boys and girls. A good, long letter of endorsement was encouraging from one who has traveled toward sunset; a very good suggestion by J. A. Cippett, to school directors in the approaching election for County Superintendent, to elect one who will use his influence to have agriculture taught in the rural schools of Bedford County; and the excellent article of F. A. Arnold, a former Bedford County boy, who doubtless, would be an enterprising and up-to-date farmer among us today, had agriculture been given its proper place in the school curriculum when he got his first school impressions. These are the responses.

I do not believe this silence is due to the "dog in the manger" spirit nor to a "conspiracy of silence," to any serious extent, even though I well remember the opposition to the self-binder, that would destroy labor; the spring-tooth harrow, that raked all the stones to the surface; and the objection to the first locomotive, you know was, that it would kill all the cows; and "fool" Fulton's steamboat that would never start, and when it did start would never stop. I even faintly recall a time when some not too complimentary things were said about us for advocating a great reform, which now appeals so strongly to the people, and we are glad, (and forgiving too).

The heart seems to be right but the head does not catch up. One of the first land rollers I saw had a long box on it, filled with stone and the owner walking behind; I suggested throwing off the stones and that he ride. He replied, "he did not believe in his horses hauling a man over plowed ground," and yet he was a farmer and former school teacher, or more than ordinary intelligence, but his boys left the farm. Have not most of us been walking behind the roller? In my few terms of teaching, this line of work never appealed to me, and the same is true practically of every teacher of this county. So there is no use to throw stones at any one, but rather throw them out of the roller, rest our legs and put our heads to work. To the average rural boy and girl farm life does not appeal today, and while much aversion may be due to our walking behind the roller, more largely it is because we have educated them to regard farm life as either undignified or unprofitable; seeing there no hope of satisfying his ambition, an ambition, in very many cases, to their credit.

"The school work must be based upon what the child brings to school with him, his life on the farm must furnish the concrete illustrations of the truth to be taught." He has learned to think in terms related to the farm, and along these lines his education should proceed. In nature study farm life offers an inexhaustible supply of objects; in chemistry the most simple, enjoyable and practical; in numbers a limitless stock to supply information, profit and inspiration.

Bedford County offers great opportunities in fruit growing; the school could easily instruct in planting, varieties, culture, spraying, marketing. In dairying, a Babcock tester could circulate among the schools of the township, and help to weed out the cows that are mere boarders. Treatment of grains for smut; potatoes for scab and blight; clover and other legumes with nitrogen-fixing bacteria; protein and other contents of human and animal foods; and a host of other lines in harmony with farm life that instruct, inspire, as well as make excellent drill in numbers, thus taking no time from that branch.

The only serious objection offered is—too many branches now. It will not displace numbers, as already shown, but make that branch more practical and pleasing to the child; that really puts it in every day; but to still further push it to its proper place substitute it on certain days for other less practical studies, until the State shall have made it a fixed part, which it is hoped, will come quickly and put us along side of the most advanced school thought of today, and make this very democratic institution one of the greatest factors in making farm life such that our boys and girls will find none more congenial and profitable, judged by true standards; for let us not allow the dollar standard to control our ideals, though dollars sanctified to their proper use, are an important factor in human uplift.

New York, at Ithaca, has a Department of Rural School Education of the State College of Agriculture, which sends out to its rural schools each month the "Cornell Rural School Leaflet." Through the kindness of Miss Alice G. McCloskey, one of the editors, I have been receiving same, the March number running the total pages for the year to 316. Every phase of farm production and development is brought to the child's attention in a pleasing and practical way, accompanied by helpful illustrations. Our own State College offers a free correspondence course which can be profitably utilized in our rural schools. Prof. O. J. Kern has transformed the schools of Illinois by this sensible course, as has also Prof. Rapp in Berks County.

Changing from our time worn arithmetic to one based on terms pertaining to farm needs and farm products is accomplished with but little expense; the selection of some practical text book on Agriculture, of which there are many at a low price; officials in sympathy with this plain duty and great opportunity; and Bedford rural schools will easily solve the big problem—How to keep the boy on the farm.

Suppose that the slight change in books does, just for the present, add a slight expense, will it not be wisely and well spent? Which of us today is not frequently discarding some back-number machinery for some more practical and profitable? Do as much for the boys. A large part of the school directors of this county are farmers; a large number of those in the boroughs are in sympathy with our needs; and soon they elect a County Superintendent. Will it not be the wise thing to elect one who will give assurance that he will at once proceed to introduce this practical and much needed feature into the rural schools under his supervision? Good men have filled this office without seeing its need, but "new occasions teach new duties" and the time is ripe for this advance. Rural director don't you think you owe this to our farm boys and girls?

Listen to Prof. O. J. Kern, "No such opportunity was ever presented to a school officer as is now before the County Superintendent of Schools. It is his privilege to become a real leader in educational way and to do original constructive work in preparing to meet the new conditions of country life.

"In the development of the country school discouragements will come and seemingly insurmountable obstacles block the way. It is no time then to become despondent or cynical. Go out under the stars and breathe the resolve in prayer to be true to right ideals. The reward is to the one who remains steadfast to the end."

"Thou shalt enrich and enlarge the life of the country child."

POLITICAL CALENDAR FOR 1914

Spring Primary Election, Tuesday, May 19, 1914.

Last day for filing Petitions for Nominations for the Primary, Tuesday, April 21.

Last day when candidates may withdraw, before the Primary, Friday, April 24, up to 4 p. m.

Last day for filing Statement of expenses for the Primary, Wednesday, June 3.

From our observations at Harrisburg, we are under strong convictions that the Democratic party cannot afford to support any other than the Hon. A. Mitchell Palmer for United States Senator. He is a second Bryan and we predict that if the full Democracy of Bedford County could hear his eloquence, he would have the united support of every Democrat in the borders of the county.

The naval force of the United States is moving toward Vera Cruz, Mexico, and will arrive there on Monday. Our officers were captured by the Huertaites and forced to march through the streets. This was an insult to the American Government and President Wilson asked Huerta to fire a salute to the American flag as an apology. The usual way of exacting apologies. Huerta stubbornly refuses and the United States means to have it done or punish the perpetrators.

On last Monday "Lefty Louie," "Gyp the Blood," "Dago Frank" and "Whitely Lewis," the criminals who shot down Rosenthal in New York City, were executed on the electric chair. This marked the end of four criminals who knew no obstacles when a desire to accomplish their aim overtook them. While these are not all of the thugs of New York, it serves as a warning to the rest there and in every city and hamlet in the United States that the law will have its course, and while some crimes may go unpunished the time will come when a trap will ensnare the law breaker. It may have profited these men for a while but in the end when death stared these people in the face they would have gladly undone all that they had done, made restitution, if possible, for former deeds and determined on a new life with absolute will to do right, but the undoing, restitution and new life were impossible, they had done the deed, taken the life deliberately, and the "wages of sin is death." Governor Glynn was petitioned and implored for their reprieve but he was steadfast in his belief that the parties were guilty and the law of the land must take its course—"life for life." The incident is over, the law is fulfilled and we hope the lesson while distressing will penetrate the conscience of others of similar intentions and inclinations and be a warning that the best path of life is the true path and any other will finally be punished.

On Wednesday evening of this week the Democratic Club of Harrisburg gave a banquet in honor of Thomas Jefferson, and on Tuesday the State Democratic Committee met in the Board of Trade rooms to adopt rules to conform to the new election law. At the banquet were 800 Democrats from all sections of the State and the audience composed about 1,200 active supporters of Wilson and Bryan.

Hon. Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, was the orator of the evening and we heard from his own lips in a very eloquent manner the achievements of the administration, achievements which in twelve months have surpassed all of the last twelve years, which demonstrates to the people that the Democratic party has more constructive ability than all the Republicans and Progressives put together. That silences all the argument that we cannot construct laws which the people want. The ability of a party is not measured by the laws it enacts but by the enactment of laws which the people want.

The next great law which the people want is the repeal of free tolls through the Panama Canal by American coast-wise vessels. A coast-wise vessel is a vessel engaged in trade between the east coast of the United States and the west coast, New York and San Francisco, for instance. All vessels doing trade business in United States are owned by 20 or 30 men. The canal was built by 100,000,000 people, not by these 20 or 30 and The Gazette cannot see why any person should want to turn over a franchise like that to a handful of people. The principle is not Democratic. We stand for "Equal rights for all, special privileges for none."

William J. Bryan says that England has never asked for a repeal of the law but has asked that the language of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty be submitted to arbitration, and Bryan has more integrity and more sincerity than the North American ever had or ever will have. The North American, seemingly stood for all the people but on the tolls question it advocates surrendering the whole canal to the American ship combines. It's very amusing to see the North American and Boies Penrose walk arm in arm. Of course "hogs love to root together." They both stand for free toll to American coast-wise trade but Penrose in 1912 was against it. Looking at Penrose of 1912 and Penrose of 1914 you see reverse pictures. The North American either was too dumb to see the light or wanted to conceal the light in 1912. We conscientiously predict that when the people understand the situation they will confirm the President's view in unmistakable zeal.

Oscar S. Straus, Roosevelt's Secretary of Commerce and Labor, testified that he thought the free tolls clause ought to be repealed. "Are we now to cast aside," he asked, "all our high purpose for a paltry sum of, at most, $2,000,000 annually, which in the last analysis will be largely taken from all our people and given to the monopolistic shipping trust?"

ALFALFA

Hundreds of Farms in This Section Now Growing It.

1. Kind of Land: Any field that brings good clover which does not heave in the spring will bring alfalfa. On slate land the roots will work into the crevices, shatter the slate and make the soil deeper and more retentive of moisture.

2. Lime: Alfalfa must have lime. Fifty bushels of stone lime per acre (air-slaked) gives better results than smaller quantities. If the field has been well limed within three years, drill capacity of air slaked lime, drilled in, will be enough.

3. Nurse Crop: At best nurse crops are dangerous; usually fatal. 4. Time of Seeding: Best results have been from seeding right after wheat harvest. Cornstalk and potato ground may be disced or thoroughly spring-toothed for July seeding. Stubble ground may be plowed and seeded in August or early September. Late September seedings are apt to winter-kill.

5. Seed: Use only northern grown seed; it is harder. Turkestan seed, southern seed and scrub seed should be avoided. With high grade seed use 15 pounds per acre, otherwise from 20 to 30.

6. Inoculation: Always necessary; failure to do so is usually fatal. Liquid cultures now furnished by the U. S. Department of Agriculture are very satisfactory, quite as good as the soil method, with less expense, labor and danger. Cost is nothing. Write me as to this.

7. Preparation: Deep plowing and thorough harrowing for this very deep-rooted plant. Where a sod is turned under it must be rolled to pack it down firmly.

8. Commercial Fertilizer containing 10% phos. acid to about 10 to 12% potash, without nitrogen, will pay. It is made up by mixing one ton of 16% phosphate with from three to four sacks of muriate of potash.

9. Selecting the Field: Alfalfa deserves the best field on the farm. Where the farm is hilly, it is a good plan to get the hillside into alfalfa and farm the more level lands. Hillside farming is back-breaking work and as a rule we don't do it so thoroughly or profitably as where the work is easier.

The Don'ts of Alfalfa: Don't use scrub seed, Turkestan or southern grown seed. Don't prepare the land carelessly; you will cut the crop for many years. Don't take chances and seed without lime or inoculation. Don't use a nurse crop. Don't pasture until the field has been two years in alfalfa; and don't let the weeds get a start on you.

If you seed early in July you may, in a favorable season, make a light cutting in the fall, setting the knives high.

In its second year the alfalfa will probably turn yellow. Cut it and let the cutting lie. As soon as there is a good rain the alfalfa will take hold again.

You will have trouble with weeds. As soon as they commence to come in, use the spring tooth harrow vigorously, after the first spring cutting. If you wait till after the second cutting the ground may be so dry and hard that the harrow will not take hold right.

When the alfalfa begins to get thin and the weeds troublesome, seed the land to a mixture of Kentucky blue grass and Canada blue grass, and then give the field a thorough overhauling with the spring tooth harrow. The blue grass will eventually drive out the alfalfa, save the back breaking work of plowing the field, and give you a field of blue grass that will surprise you.

Alfalfa should always be cut when the new shoots are through the ground and before they are high enough to be cut by the mowing machine. It may be seriously injured by not cutting at the right time.

How to Seed: Broadcast the seed and harrow it in with a spike tooth or section harrow, being sure to get the seed deep enough to be in moist ground. Or use the grass box of the drill, sloping the dropping board so as to drop seed in front of the hose, to draw part depth to cover the seed. Or you can run the seed through the grain hose, cross harrowing to level the ground, but this harrowing should be very light.

If rain follows seeding and a crust forms get on with a light roller. This breaks the crust but does not injure the plants.

Alfalfa hay is really no harder to cure than clover, except that it must be carefully watched and taken in before the leaves are dry enough to crumple up when worked between the fingers.

There are hundreds of farms in this section now growing alfalfa. But we are not extending our areas as fast as we ought to be considering the value of the crop. A 20 acre field of alfalfa is far more profitable per acre than a one or two acre field.

Why not set aside a larger field for the purpose of getting it into alfalfa for hay and pasture, and later, for permanent blue grass pasture? Under this plan you will not have to figure on plowing, which none of us like to look forward to when it comes to alfalfa, and the annual profit will be greater per acre than from the same acres, anyhow, to farm them well.

FOR THE HONOR OF THE NATION

Reasons Why Senators Support President Wilson.

[By Senator Porter J. McCumber (Rep.) of North Dakota.]

Washington, April 13.—I shall vote for the bill to repeal the exemption provision of the Panama Canal act. I do that because I think that is what we should do.

I am certain that the American public want to adopt a policy that will be just to all the people as a domestic policy, and want to keep the word of this country good and its honor unstained. They want to do this in the eyes of the whole world. I shall vote in accordance with what I think would be their attitude if the truth were not hidden from them. In doing this I shall accept whatever consequence a righteous vote may bring.

The question of whether or not we have entered into a contract is a cold fact. The question of international interference is always a sentimental and sensational one, and gains great publicity. If the American people do not know that we entered into a solemn agreement as a part of the purchase price of the right to own that land and construct that canal, then I conceive it to be the moral duty of the representatives of the people, who do know it, to impart it to them, rather than conform their own view to square with a sentiment based upon misinformation. Give the public the truth and it can always be relied upon to do the right thing.

The Repeal bill should pass. The President is right. He has never uttered a sentence that could be construed into the surrender of a domestic right to purchase peace or good will.

Bipartisan Candidates Not Popular

Pittsburgh, April 10.—The Armstrong administration scandal is the result of the exposure of corruption and inefficiency in the city departments, has had a serious effect upon the chances of William J. Brennen for carrying the county either as a candidate for Democratic Chairman or for the bipartisan machine candidate for Governor. This is due to the fact that Brennen and his wing of bipartisan machine have been special pets of Mayor Armstrong in the matter of appointments.

Brennen's principal lieutenants, including his so-called County Chairman, John J. McKel, all hold fine positions under the Penrose Mayor.

Keep the Boy on the Farm

by encouraging him to have a bank account with the First National Bank of Bedford, Pa., and save his money.

Pay him for his work, give him an interest in some of the stock, turn over a few acres for him to work on shares. The best help you will find is your own boy—providing he is satisfied and contented. Every young man wants a bank account. He will not remain contented without money of his own,—none of us would.

The First National Bank believes in young men. The future of our farms rests upon them. We want to see them have every chance to make good.
